Chelmsford based Massachusetts filmmakers, John Hartman of Reel Groovy Films and Zee Zarbock of Unfolding Story Pictures today announce the formation of an independent and art house film traveling cinema called Indie Traveling Cinema.

Indie Traveling Cinema will offer shows at universities, libraries, community centers, and other venues beginning late September, 2009, reaching out to those who are hungry for an alternative to Hollywood. Each show will be built around an independent or art house feature, and accompanied by shorts and trailers for upcoming shows.

The first shows will be booked in New England and feature New England films and talent. Indie Traveling Cinema is currently creating two inaugural shows--one based around the feature Bridge Crusader, and the other around the feature Reel-illusionary Zone, both by Reel Groovy Films and Unfolding Story Pictures.

Based on public interest and turnout at the inaugural shows, Indie Traveling Cinema hopes to expand throughout the country and offer a season series of four or five programs per year. This will bring indie and art house cinema to the public in a new way, and offer filmmakers a chance to get their work out to a wider audience and grow a fan base across the country.

REQUEST FOR SUBMISSIONS OF NEW ENGLAND SHORTS AND TRAILERS

Indie Traveling Cinema is seeking shorts and trailers from New England filmmakers for the first two programs. To be considered for participation in Indie Traveling Cinema, please email your expression of interest to zee@ziamar.com (no phone calls, please) by September 6, 2009. Include a synopsis, production information, and run time. If selected for the next round of consideration, a DVD will be requested. There will be no compensation at this time, but they hope to build that into the program pending the success of our pilot programs.

Please note that films should be positive in nature overall, to be considered for Indie Traveling Cinema. No slasher movies or movies with gratuitous violence will be included in the programming. Movies that take the audience through a dark tunnel are acceptable as long as they have a more positive balance of light.

BOOKING INDIE TRAVELING CINEMA FOR YOUR VENUE

Every show will be positive, overall, and many shows will be family friendly. No slasher movies, dark movies without a positive solution, or gratuitous violence will be included in the programming.

Shows will be in the 100-120 minute range and will be offered at a low flat rate, due upon booking.
